Biggest Loser Seven Finalist Mike Morelli Joins DietsInReview.com as Biggest Loser Correspondent

New York, NY - DietsInReview.com is pleased to announce Mike Morelli as the newest addition to its growing health and wellness team. Mike was one of three finalists in the season seven finale of NBC's Biggest Loser. He competed as the youngest contestant ever, and made himself a fast favorite amongst fans for his positive attitude, generosity and success on the show. During Biggest Loser 8, premiering fall 2009, Mike will be featured as the Biggest Loser correspondent at DietsInReview.com, providing video episodic recaps throughout the new season.

"We couldn't be happier to have Mike join the DietsInReview.com family," said senior editor Brandi Koskie. "Mike captivated America during his time on Biggest Loser and we know he'll continue to strike a chord with fans as the Biggest Loser Correspondent."

Mike survived the lengthy 18-week season of Biggest Loser 7, where he lost a total of 207 pounds on- and off-campus. While Mike was a formidable competitor in the game on TV, he's now a competitor in the game of life as a freshman at Michigan State University, where he's pursuing a degree in athletic training.
